Warehousing and Logistics

Here at Saito we understand that labelling has to work very hard in your business operations, therefore we produce what we term “working labels”. The ones you would apply to goods received and put away, the ones you may use in pick applications and definitely the ones that you would use to ship the goods. Enabling you to identify all your materials and keep track of how it moves from one place to another.

We can help you:

- Improve warehouse operations with everything from robust floor-mounted labelling to stand-out shelf labelling systems
- Keep track of goods on the move with portable hand scanners and labellers
- Use barcodes and technology to improve productivity, accuracy and traceability
- Select the right label printers and ribbons to suit your operational requirement
- Choose a label from our stable of standard stock lines or manufacture to your specific requirements

Saito labels and tags come in gloss, matt, polyethylene, polypropylene, thermal transfer, thermal direct, synthetic and UL approved polyesters. There are many adhesive options available so that your labels adhere to plastic, card, paper or rough surfaces in any warehouse and logistics operating environment. The Saito label range includes despatch labels for couriers, carton and pallet labelling.

Saito is an incredibly forward thinking and dynamic company, that remains a privately-owned family business, in its second generation of leadership.

In May 1985 Saito started out in our founding directors' basement, in June 1991 Saito opened its Queensland branch and in June 2018 we have opened our Trade & Technical branch in Onehunga.

In short, Saito specialise in operational productivity improvements – and have developed a spectrum of solutions that range from the manual tried and true methods to ground breaking automations. From the humble date coder to direct package printing, Saito have spent the past three decades listening to our customers, their challenges and their visions, then delivered solutions. In many cases these are derived in part or in full from a global network of partners that we collaborate with.

Saito has an awesome reputation in the marketplace which has been derived from the customer centric culture instilled by our founding director and delivered by all team members, even via our casual staff. Everything we do is aimed at exceeding our customers' expectations.

Saito continue to grow and we are immensely proud that a great majority of both our customers and staff have been with us for over twenty years and remain very loyal. As we do to them!
